HONOR TO WHOM HONOR ... OUR LAW ENFORCEMENT

There has been much written and said about the “Thin Blue Line”, but enough can not be said regarding our support and appreciation of them. We do thank those of you who put your lives on the line to serve and protect us. Some lost their lives in the line of duty. I dedicated Volume 113 of the newsletter to the following. JAMES MONROE DEDMAN III, WILLIAM BRIAN DEDMON, PAUL HILTON, CHRISTOPHER BAILEY, ELLIOTT DEDMON, JOSEPH DEDMAN JR, RYAN DEDMON, RICHARD DEDMON, CHRISTY JO DEDMAN, EDWARD LAVERNE DEDMON, WALLY JOHNSON, MATT DEDMAN, TRISTEN LAMBERT, DAVID DEDMON, SHARRY A. DEDMAN-BEARD, DERRY DEDMON, AND LEROY PICKNEY DEDMON. As I receive new information, I will feature them, so please let me know of family who are in law enforcement.

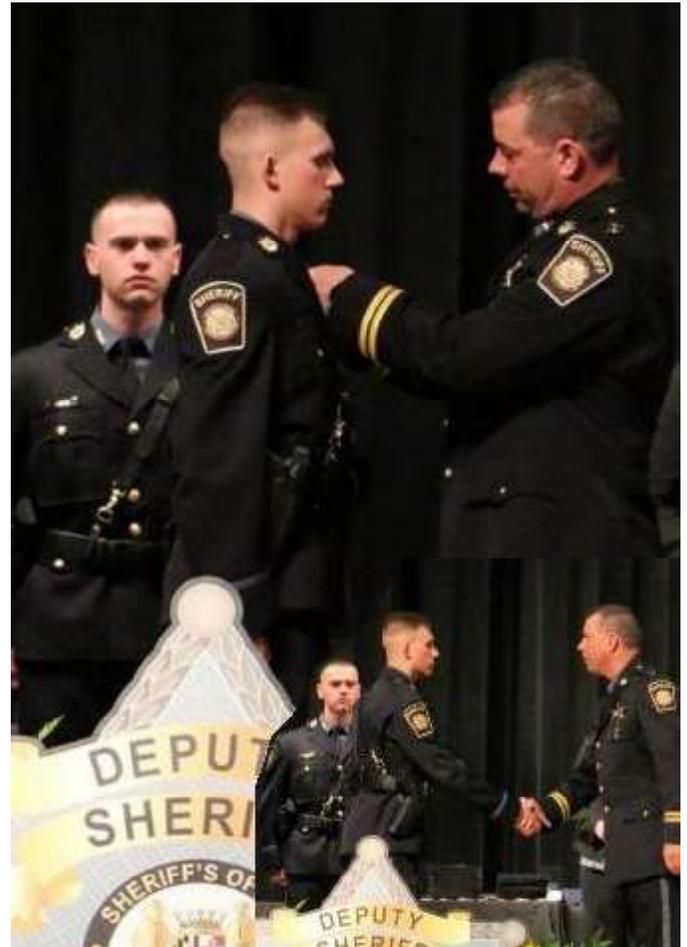

Kyle Alexander Dedmon

Kyle is a 2015 graduate from Francis Scott Key High School in Union Bridge, (Carroll County) MD. Kyle entered into Public Safety in 2016, as a emergency communication specialist at the the Carroll County emergency Communication Center . (911 services)

Kyle has been supporting his local fire department and Community as an EMT and firefighter for over 9 years. Kyle graduated from the Carroll County Sheriff's office training academy on March 22, 2019. Kyle is the son of Donald Wayne and Angela Fay Dedmon. Public service is not a stranger to this family as Donald's brother, David, served in law enforcement in Carroll County, MD for about three years and served as a law enforcement officer in Ravalli County, MT, for 10 years. Also, Kyle's great uncle, Everett Lee Dedmon, served as a Maryland state trooper for at least 28 years in Carroll County. I plan to feature him in a latter edition of the newsletter. In Volume 113, I featured Leroy Pickney Dedmon, who served as a Baltimore police lieutenant for 30 years and is listed in the Baltimore Police Department Hall of Fame. He is a first cousin to Kyle's grandfather. Thanks to Donald Dedmon for supplying the information for this article.

“Here is your badge and gun sir”, be careful out there and make us proud.

This month I will keep "Down Memory Lane" on the lighter side. I found these 2 old stories that gave me a real laugh, maybe they will you as well.

OLD MAN HELD ON TO HIS WHISKERS
Lexington, Ky., July 26, 1910

Refusing to part with his long flowing whiskers, whited with the time that has elapsed since a couple of years before Lea surrendered at Appomattox, Robert Dedman, aged eighty-six, stood off a corps of surgeons at a local hospital who desired to remove his beard in order to perform an operation upon Mr. Dedman's eye.

Mr. Dedman, who is a wealthy resident of Lawrence, Ky., was brought to the local hospital some days ago for treatment. Explaining to the surgeons his reasons for refusing to be shaved, he said:

"When the war broke out I was an ardent sympathizer with the Southern cause. I came into contact with a bunch of Yankees and, as young men sometimes do, I talk to much, with the result that they chased me ten miles and, in addition to shaving me, gave me a sound thrashing. I swore right then that a razor should never touch my face again till the South had won her cause. There doesn't seem to be much chance of the latter coming true, so I reckon you will have to get along without shaving me this time"

The surgeons gave in and the operation was performed, leaving the long braids.

SENDS HEARSE AFTER MAN NAMED DEDMAN
Blunder of Telegraph Operator
Causes a Queer Mix Up in Oregon
Special Dispatch to The Call
PORTLAND, Oregon ,May 25, 1905..

W. H. Dedman, proprietor of a local cigar store, sometimes goes on the road. Yesterday he asked a friend to wire ahead for a conveyance. The friend complied, sending the following : "Meet Dedman at train 3:30 to-day, sure." At Eugene the salesman found no outfit suitable for the journey, and walked quickly to the stable. "Where is Robinson, the owner ?" he inquired. "He is in the back unhitching, and he is very 'sore.' Better leave him alone".." "Why, what's wrong ?" "Why, some fool telegraphed us to meet a corpse and Robinson took the hearse down to the train. There wasn't any corpse." Dedman asked to see the dispatch. The operator had received it : "Meet dead man at train 3:30 to-day, sure."

The San Francisco call., May 26, 1905
San Francisco, California

Here are a few words woman to woman. There is no theory about this letter. There is nothing about it that cannot be readily proven. It is a voluntary statement from a woman who has been restored to health and strength, and who wishes that her own experience may be duplicated by the experience of others.

“WOMAN TO WOMAN”

Mrs. L. Dedmon, of Fair Grove, Greene Co., Mo., writes: "In July 1895 I was confined. My confinement was premature. About six weeks after, I was taken with severe flooding. I had the best doctor the country afforded. I took medicine for about two months but got no better. I was very weak-could not do any of my work. Could scarcely lift a chair. Suffered with pain in my back and hips and had soreness deep low down across me. I had inflammation and ulceration-so the doctor said.

I concluded I would consult Dr. R. V. Pierce. I wrote to you giving you a full description of my case. You advised me to take your 'Favorite Prescription.' I began taking it at once. In three days I could feel a chance. I took three bottles and the result was a complete cure. It has been six months since I used your medicine, and I feel no return of the disease at all. I wish also to say I had not been strong for many years. I had taken patent medicines and been attended by doctors but got no better. Today there is not a stronger woman in the country than I am. I suffer no pain at all, can work all day and not be tired at night, I can cheerfully say that I believe I owe my health to the use of your valuable medicine and your good advice."

If a copy of Dr. Pierce's "Common Sense Medicine Adviser" was in every house in the United States, half the sickness in the country could be prevented. This great work over a thousand pages is completely illustrated with over three hundred pictures. It contains many simple inexpensive receipts for curing the common ailments which arise in every family. By following its advice, simple home treatment may be given for many little ailments. Serious sickness may be prevented and many doctor bills saved. Nearly 700,000 copies have been sold at $1.50 per volume, and now an edition, paper-bonnd, of a half a million is being distributed absolutely free. It will be sent post-paid to anyone who will send 21 one-cent stamps, to pay the cost of mailing only, to the; World's Dispensary Medical Association, No.663 Main Street, Buffalo, N.Y. If you want French cloth binding, send 10 cents extra, 31 cents in all.

URINARY TROUBLE!

The son of a prominent Tennessean finds a quick cure after many things fail.

If the Kidneys are strong and healthy there can be no bladder trouble. Frequently the Kidneys do not dissolve the waste matter that enters them and the particles form into a solid mass in the bladder. This mass, or stone, obstructs the passage of urine from the bladder, and if this is allowed to continue the important function of urination may be permanently interfered with. The only thing to do is to get a reliable remedy that will dissolve this stone in the bladder and force it out of the system, and to accomplish this it is not necessary to have a surgical operation performed, as used to be the case. All you need in any case of Kidney or bladder trouble is SMITH'S SURE KIDNEY CURE, and Mr. Dedman of Memphis can give evidence to this effect in the case of his own son. Mr. Dedman writes:

My son has suffered with stone in the bladder eight years. I have taken him to several watering places, also to Cincinnati, New York, Chicago and Nashville; where he was put under eminent physicians with no improvement; on the contrary it was gradually getting larger, until I lost all hope of getting him cured, when I was told of Smith's Sure Kidney Cure. I had him try it, and to my surprise he began to improve at once, and he was cured with two bottles. His general health has improved wonderfully.

R. L. DEDMAN.

November 27, 1902,

(Lawrenceburg, Ky.)

(Back in the 1800s there was a story written about "Nancy Dedman". It was a work of fiction printed in MacMillan's magazine, perhaps serialized; but it was later produced in newspapers. It is basically typed as is, spelling corrections are attempted, but not the grammar construction. This is the conclusion, and it begins in Volume 158, if you missed it.)

There was an inquiry, but naught came of it. Old Dedman had another fit and died, and Dick went over the seas, they said. Farmer Kemp, young Jim as was, never come back to settle. He sold up, and nobody would have know'd a word about it only he come once, when he was getting in years, to look at Nancy's grave to Haslemere.

He told all he knowd to the sexton, Mr. Keeling, and years after Dick came as a stranger and asked for the grave of one Nancy Dedman, as he had a fancy to see. Though he was an old gray man much beshaken? and with naught about be to speak of murder, Mr. Keeling, as was always one with two pair of eyes, determined on seeing justice done, and he tracks the man to the inn and brings the parson, who was magistrate into the bargain. But the parson found a broken-down old man, and he would not make any bestir; it were too long ago, he said. And afore Dick Dedman died he and the parson were the best of friends, and from Dick parson had it all. After Dick died he telled Mr. Keeling, who fitted in his part, and so it was told and told again, and the tale was well known when I was a boy, though nobody speaks of it now.

-Macmillan's Magazine.

Thanks, Jim, for sharing this story with us and I hope all enjoyed it as much as I did. If you would like this story in either a PDF format, text file or the original newspaper article, just let me know and I will be glad to share it... -Leroy

On another note DEDMAN AND DEADMAN SURNAME

This interesting surname DEDMAN, of English origin with variant spellings Debnam, Deadman, etc., is a dialectal variant of the locational name Debenham in Suffolk, deriving from the Old English pre 7th century river name "Deopa" meaning "Deep plus "ham" "homestead". The surname dates back to the late 13th Century, (see below). Church recordings include one Rachell Deadman who married Thomas Pope on September 12th 1580, at St. Dunstan's, Stepney, Andrew son of Andrew and Ellin Dedman, was christened in 1637, at St. Botolph without Aldgate, London, and Frances Dedman was christened on August 1st 1638, at St. Margaret's, Westminster. John, son of Richard Dedman, was christened on April 22nd 1649, at St. Swithin's, London - Stone, and Elizabeth, daughter of Edward Dedman, was christened in 1707, at Puttenham, Suffolk.

In spite of its rather sinister appearance, the English surname, DEADMAN, of early medieval origins, has absolutely nothing to do with any death or destruction. It is locational and one of a number of dialectal corruptions of the Norfolk village name of Debenham, near the city of Norwich. It is true that there are a number of places such as Deadwin Clough, Deadmans Croft, and Deadmans Coppice, found in the counties of Lancashire, Yorkshire and Gloucestershire respectively, which are grim recordings of some foul deed in ancient times, but no evidence exists to suggest that any of them gave rise to a later surname development. In this case the name development leading to the modern surname spellings, are well documented and have followed the path of de Debenham to Debenham, to Dedman, Debnam, and Deadman, all versions which are still to be found in modern times. Examples of the recordings include Edward Debnam at St Michael's church, Cornhill, London in 1669, Robert Debnam of Suffolk in 1674, and Martha Harris, given as being the sister of Samuel Deadman, buried at the church of St Dionis Backchurch, city of London, in 1688.

The first recorded spelling of the family name is shown to be that of John de Debenham, which was dated 1273, in the "Hundred Rolls of Huntingdonshire", during the reign of King Edward 1, known as "The Hammer of the Scots", 1272-1307. Surnames became necessary when governments introduced personal taxation. In England this was known as Poll Tax. Throughout the centuries, surnames in every country have continued to "develop" often leading to astonishing variants of the original spelling.
