

The Dedmon Connection

JANUARY 2006 Number 44

(Dedmon, Dedman, Deadman, Deadmon, Dedmond, Dedmond, etc.)

LEROY DEDMON, EDITOR

It is hard to believe another year has come and gone, but here we are beginning the year 2006. I believe I will pour out the water we saved for the Y2k scare as it seems that nothing is going to happen. It is also hard to believe that I am entering into my third year of "retirement". I have always heard that "time flies when you are having fun", so I must be having a ball.

I have not heard from many of you in a long time, so how about sending me some information on the family. Pictures of activities and "new borns" (I always wonder about that phrase, as it would seem that all births are new). Birthdays and anniversaries make for good news and with the new digital cameras it is easy to send them to me.

We need to have another reunion if there is enough interest. Let me know what you think. Maybe some of the Arkansas bunch could host one this year (hint!! hint!!) Sooooooowee, Sooooooowee....(My imitation of calling a Razor Back Hog in the Ozarks....)

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

January has two important birthdays in my family. My mom and my sister Carolyn. Mom turned 94 on January 8. We are well blessed with the longevity of mom's life. These last three years have been priceless to me as I have been able to live here with her. Carolyn reached the "ripe" old age of ###% on January 11. If my memory serves me right, she is only one year behind me. However, that will change on June 27 when I become a year older. In fact there is just eight years separating me and Bill, my youngest brother. Five kids in eight years wow!!!! Carolyn is married to Claud Price and they have three children: Kenneth, Susan and Mark.

RUBY DICKSON DEDMON

It is kinda ironic that Jane's mother was born on January 7 and of the few people I know named Viola, two of them were my mother and mother-in law. Mom is Ruby Viola Dickson Dedmon and Jane's mom was Cynthia Viola Shirley Glasscock. Of course, mom shares her birthday with a fairly famous singer named Elvis (who by the way has connection in our family tree). Hurrah!!! Hurrah!! (My imitation of a not so enthusiastic redneck.....)

My grandfather also had a birthday in January. Olan Vess was born on January 11 (which is the same as my sister, Carolyn). He lived to be almost 100 years of age. he was born in 1898 and died on April 13, 1997.

CAROLYN

Also, Maye Belle (Dedmon) Armstrong's birthday is on January 11. May Bell is one of the Arkansas family members. She is the daughter of Herman August Dedmon. I met Maye Belle at the last reunion.

SHELBY - A list of the charter members of Ross Grove Baptist Church reads like a Who's Who of Shelby history. The cemetery is filled with tombstones bearing the names Dedmon, Weathers, Blanton, Spake, Bridges, Cornwell, Sperling, and more.

Ross Grove was actually started over 122 years ago when in August 1878, a revival meeting was held in a brush arbor near the site where the present church now stands. The brush arbor meeting resulted in the organization of a Sunday School in the spring of 1879 which met in a log barn.

The Ross Grove School was a one room building equipped with benches made of split logs and a long writing table.

In 1880, Abel and Lettie Ross Hardin donated 15 acres of land to build a church and a 26 x 36 feet one room building was erected. The grove was named in honor of Lettie Ross Hardin and Ross Grove Baptist Church was founded.

A new building was built in 1905 and Sunday School rooms were added in 1935. In 1943, the church was completely remodeled with new pews, paneling, furniture, a baptistery and stained glass windows. Rest rooms were added in 1947.

"I've been going here since my mother started bringing me to church in 1922, the year I was born," said Hal Dedmon. He says his first memory of the church was a Christmas pageant in which the three kings were portrayed by his father, Thomas L. Dedmon, George E. Sperling and Joe E. Blanton. Dedmon said he remembers the costumes in the play were simple bathrobes furnished by each actor.

"The first Christmas tree I remember in the church was a holly tree," Dedmon said. "It was full of red berries and that was the only decoration we had."

The fellowship building was built in 1952 and the parsonage was completed in 1956. In 1961 plans were completed for a new church building. Ross Grove has now been moved from its original site in the grove to the present location on Highway 18 North. The windows in the top front of the present church were moved from the old church, Dedmon said. The old bell has also been given a place of prominent display beside the fellowship hall.

The present education facility was completed in 1969 and in 1985 a ground breaking ceremony was held for the present sanctuary, which was dedicated in 1986. The new sanctuary has a seating capacity of 420 people and includes offices for the pastor, secretary, youth and children's director, dressing rooms, a dining room and much more.

Mrs. Ovedia (Dedmon) Pruett is one of the oldest living members of the church. She has memories of Ross Grove that go way back to the old church. "I used to walk to Ross Grove Church from my home," Mrs. Pruett said. "That was about three miles each way but back then we didn't have any other way to go."

Mrs. Pruett said Ross Grove people have always been like family to her. "It think it's a real friendly church," she said, "and we have a real good Sunday School class."

Ross Grove Baptist Church now has a total membership of 243 people who carry on the work of the church under the leadership of the current pastor, Rev. Gene Daggerheart.

(I was reminded of some of my early years when I read this article. One year "Santa" paid a visit to the church where we were attending. Us kids were disappointed that dad had to leave and was not able to see him. We also was amazed that Santa had on a pair of shoes just like the ones dad had been wearing.

Church was always a part of our lives. We were always the first to arrive and the last to leave. Even when dad was in the Army, we walked to the closest church. There is an old abandoned church building near where I am now living that was built on land donated by my great-grandfather, William Dedmon.)

THE BRICK WALL

I have discovered at least five major Deadman branches that we have not been able to connect. If you have information on any of the Deadman family branches, please submit.

(I received the following from Joe Power and am including it here, thinking some of you may have additional information.)

Hi Leroy,

My name is Joe Power and while doing a Google search on my ancestors John Poor Sr. and Mary Holloway it came up with an entry on your web site. I've been unable to find the information you have on them. What I'm trying to do is find out who John (Poor) Power Sr. father was? I was thinking it was Nicholas Power III but I can't find anything saying that's true. I'm hoping you or someone can help me since you appear to have some information on my ancestors. Warmest Regards,

Joe Power
Anaheim, CA

(I replied with the following information)

Joe, Thanks for the inquiry and I apologize for the delay, but was out of town... My connection to the Power family is a brief one, dating back to the late 1700's when an ancestor married into that family... Here is what I have.. Good luck on your search.. Leroy

I am still looking for an editor for this page of the DEDMON CONNECTION. I believe it would add interest to the newsletter if more folks would participate in the publishing of it. I also would like for someone to edit the "Down Memory Lane" column. Any volunteers?????

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO YOU.....
HAPPY BIRTHDAY DEAR CURT..

It is hard to believe, but little Curt is now two years old. Curt is my great grand son and on the 23rd of December he celebrated his second birthday. I can sympathize with him on the date of his birth. He will always be overshadowed by the fact that Christmas is two days past his birthday.

The reason I know this is because my birthday is one week past Father's Day..... You guessed it!!! "Here Dad, we got you this gift, for Father's Day, and since your birthday is next week, just consider this an early birthday present as well" I have heard this for many years. Now don't get me wrong, I appreciate the gift and don't blame anyone as I am guilty of the same.

Just get used to it Curt. It will be OK!!! I do think my grand daughter is aware of that and so far has been having Curt's birthday in January. Keep it up Carrie, I know he will appreciate it.

Curt Douglas Webb is opening packages containing gifts he received at his second birthday party. Carrie (my grand daughter) is helping. I am not quite sure who is the most excited, mother or son. Jane and I were unable to attend as I was preaching in Morrison, Tennessee on that day.

It is difficult to get all the birthdays and so far in this issue I have listed several. On page one I mentioned my mother, Ruby Dedmon; my sister, Carolyn (Dedmon) Price; my grandfather, Olan Vess and Maye Belle (Dedmon) Armstrong. In the adjacent column I told about my great grandson, Curt Webb (although his birthday is in December.

Among the January birthdays in my good friend and cousin, Danny McBee, whose birthday is on the twelfth. When I think of those who have been encouragers to me in the Family Research Project, three come to mind: Jim Dedmon, Jackie Dedman and Danny McBee. Of course there are others, (Glenda Holcomb, Ruth and Jana Richard, and Floyd Dedmon) but they came later in the project. These three were there from almost day one!!!!

No one shows more enthusiasm than Danny McBee. My plans are to visit Danny over in Gastonia, NC. The one time that I thought I would be able to do that was when I traveled to Richmond, VA.

DANNY MCBEE

However, we passed through his town about one in the morning and I thought it best to let him sleep. Thinking back on it, I wish I had stopped. If the situation were reversed, I would want him to wake me.

In looking through my files I found this picture of Danny. As you can see that was many birthdays ago. His hair style is different as it looks as if he is now wearing his hair "heaven style", as there is no parting there".. Now I know you should not make fun of folks who is getting a little thin on top. Remember what happened to the boys who made fun of Elisha!

One bald headed man told me that, "brain and hair didn't mix". Me and my big mouth just had to ask him, "which one did you loose first?" That really was not very smart as he was one of the elders where I preached.

Hi, I am the son of Steven Lee Dedmon, who is the son of Dwight Leland Dedmon. Much of my family hail from Oklahoma, although, I've only been to Oklahoma twice to see family. So, I don't really know much of my family beyond immediate family. I grew up in Lewistown, PA and have since relocated to Pittsburgh, Pa, and am certain myself and my wife, and my brother Steve's family, are the only Dedmons in this region of Pennsylvania. Just thought I'd throw this out there for you. Nice site. Dave Dedmon of Pittsburgh.

*I received this message from the guest book and was glad to hear from David. Of course his roots come back to the Chattanooga area and are very much a part of my branch of the "tree". Our lines connect with Mark and Hannah Dedmon.
Mark was the first known relative to spell the name D-E-D-M-O-N.*

Subject: The Cannons update

Thanks for your prayers for our friends, the Cannon's.
They had to be at Moffett Cancer Hospital in Tampa at 7 a.m. this morning, surgery scheduled for 9 a.m.
A few minuets before surgery the Surgeon had one last test of Mr. Cannons he wanted to look at. About 10 minuets later the surgeon returned and told him he could get dressed and go home, last test shows no sign of cancer. Every since we heard the good news a verse from an old gospel song keeps playing in my heart," It is no Secret what God Can Do."
Be Blessed
Love, Jackie

*Jackie had sent an earlier email requesting prayers on behalf of the Cannon family.
I appreciate the update and agree, "It is no secret...." For some of the newcomers to our newsletter, Jackie was the originator of this type of publication. She began and published several issues of what she called, THE DEDMAN CONNECTION. When we first made contact with each other she had ceased publishing, but sent me some of the back issues.
Jackie did it the old fashioned way (before computers). She printed and mailed her work to those who requested it. As you can imagine it was quite expensive. She encouraged me to begin the current, DEDMON CONNECTION, which is now in the eighth year of existence.
I intend to put her issues on-line, but that is a job within itself as there are no files to copy. It all has to be entered into the computer. I have almost finished the first copy. Thanks Jackie....*

On Monday, August 15th Shelby City Council approved the Parks and Recreation Advisory Board recommendation to name City Park areas after two very deserving individuals. The current Junior League Baseball Field will now be called "Arky Arakelian Field". The late Mr. Arakelian was a huge supporter of Recreation Department and always gave his time and energy to help where ever needed. While he may be best remembered as a baseball, softball, basketball or football official, Arky was a regular around the Park offices and will always be remembered for his generosity and sense of humor. Arky's wife Shirley and family continue to sponsor "Arky's Clippers" in the Junior Baseball League. The area that surrounds the ballfields will now be known as "Happy Hal Dedmon Circle". Mr. Dedmon was a 1993 inductee in the FCA Cleveland County Sports Hall Of Fame and served as Assistant and Interim Director for Shelby Parks and Recreation from 1955 until 1967. During this time Hal was very instrumental in the development of youth sports programs and a co-founder of the Royster Golf Association. Known for his ever present smile, he was dubbed "Happy Hal" by his friends. The official dedication ceremonies will take place on opening day in May.
